

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons as "Lady Macbeth." Last evening Mrs. Scott-Siddons appeared as "Lady Macbeth" to the largest audience that has yet attended her performances. We are not among those who think that an exaggerated physical development is essential in the actress who would successfully represent this character; on the contrary, we have always been inclined to imagine "Lady Macbeth" as a little woman, and that Mrs. Siddons approximates to our ideal rather prepossessed us in her favor. That she lacks the treads and sinews of Charlotte Cushman is, however, apparently the only qualification she has for the part. How much her success in comedy roles was due to her very attractive personal appearance, her engaging manners, and her lively and animated style, rather than to her merits as an actress, was made painfully apparent when she undertook to interpret the stern tragic character.

The reading of the letter, and the subsequent interview with "Macbeth," the inciting him to commit the murder, and the awful scene where the crime is consummated, were rendered in a ranting style that any schoolgirl with sufficient self-possession to appear before an audience could easily have equalled. We have never seen anything more crude or unsatisfactory from an actress who professed to understand the rudiments of her art. Mrs. Siddons' gestures were not their elegant nor appropriate words.

"Yet do I fear thy nature: It is too full of the milk of human kindness to catch the nearest way." The illustration by a violent clutching at the air, as if striving to catch something; and in the passage, "Hie thee hither, That I may pour my spirits in thy ear, And chastise with the vigor of my tongue All that impedes thee from the golden round, Which fate and metaphysical aid do seem To have thee crown'd withal," she beckoned violently, as if to hurry "Macbeth" on the stage, and indicated the "golden round" by describing a circle with her finger above her head. And so we might go on multiplying instances of similar character. Mrs. Siddons' elocution, too, was palpably defective, and her emphasis was almost invariably given in the wrong place. We do not argue for traditional usages in matters of this kind, and if an actress can evolve a new meaning, well and good. The effect of Mrs. Siddons' misapplied emphasis, however, was to make nonsense of the text, and to our mind she had no particular idea of any meaning to be expressed. All these peculiarities may be evidences of genius, but we do not think so.

The first indication Mrs. Siddons gave that she had any clear conception of the part she was playing was in the scene in the third act immediately preceding the banquet, the first scene in which she appears after the murder. "Duncan," then, was pronounced, and she seemed to be oppressed by the weight of her crime, and while endeavoring to assume an air of ease and unconcern before the attendants, and to encourage her husband, she clung to him for support, and the remembrance of "Duncan's" blood occupied her mind to the exclusion of other thoughts. During the banquet scene, too, while "Macbeth" was raving at "Banquo's" ghost, only by an effort was she able to rouse herself to the task of explaining matters to the guests, and more than once she sank back in her seat as if exhausted, nervously clutching at the arms of the throne and drawing her robes about her in a preoccupied way. This is how we understood Mrs. Siddons, and when it was a correct interpretation or not, is scarcely necessary for us to discuss now. At any rate it was intelligent acting, which is much more than we can say for the previous portions of the performance. The sleep-walking scene was tolerably well done, although it seemed an effort rather than an inspiration. Mrs. Siddons is evidently at her best in comedy, and such a heavy tragic part as "Lady Macbeth" is certainly beyond her powers. Not having seen her in "Juliet," we will not undertake to say whether or not she is equal to juvenile tragedy; but we beg her to remember, in any case, that rant is neither forcible nor expressive.

Mr. Harkins played "Macbeth" like a panorama man explaining the pictures. He was extremely confidential with the audience, and appeared to think that they would not be able to understand the drift of the argument unless he explained it in a pleasantly familiar sort of way. Some of Mr. Harkins' readings had the style of a novice at least, although the style in which he mixed up the text can scarcely be considered an improvement on Shakespeare. As for the rest of the cast, the prompter was the best man among them, for he did give the unadulterated text so that it could be heard to the remotest corner of the house. We wish that some enterprising manager would forget the traditions of the stage, and oblige us by announcing "Macbeth" to be performed without Locke's music. We think that Locke was a humbug, at any rate we are sure his music "entire" is a nuisance that we would gladly see abated.

The City Amusements. AT THE ARCH A Flash of Lightning will be given this evening. AT THE CHESTNUT the circus troupe will conclude their engagement this week. Performances this afternoon. AT THE WALNUT the drama of The Orange Girl and the farce of Up for the Holidays are announced for this evening. A matinee will be given to-morrow. AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC Mrs. Scott Siddons will appear as "Julia" in The Husband. To-morrow evening Romeo and Juliet will be performed for the benefit of Mrs. Siddons. AT THE AMERICAN a matinee will be given to-morrow, when the pantomime of Jack the Giant Killer will be performed. AT THE THEATRE COMIQUE Offenbach's operetta of A Marriage by Proxy and Dibdin's ballet opera of The Biscuits will be performed this evening by the Fraz-Gallon Troupe. McEvoy's New "Hibernation" will be exhibited at Concert Hall this evening. New Year's Greeting, January 1, 1889. At this auspicious season, with a new year opening before us, we desire to call the attention of the public to the establishment of a first-class Dry Goods and Cloth House, upon principles that we believe will commend themselves to all. We respectfully invite the attention of the public to the following facts:— Our facilities for conducting business cannot be surpassed. We buy our goods exclusively for cash, and the advantages secured in every market by large cash buyers are too well known to need comment. We sell our goods only for cash; therefore, having no losses from selling on credit to provide for, we can afford to sell for small profits. Again, our large business gives us the opportunity to buy goods in large lots, which is a great advantage, as it enables us to deal directly with manufacturers and importers, and thereby save the intermediate profits which our competitors are obliged to pay. Another principle is to keep no old stock on hand. The usual custom is to keep undesirable goods from season to season till purchasers can be found at about cost prices. We shall sell undesirable goods at once for what they will command, without reference to cost, thereby making room for new goods and keeping our stock always fresh and clean. The following goods we keep in large assortment, viz.—Silks, Dress Goods, Cloths, Blankets, Muslins, Linen Goods, White Goods, Hosiery, Shawls, Flannels, etc. etc. While we make a specialty of every department, yet we desire to call attention particularly to our stock of Cloths, in which department we have unusual facilities both in the purchase and sale of the goods. There has been no centrally located Cloth House in our city where a complete stock of these goods could be found. We intend to keep by far the largest assortment to be found in Philadelphia, including Ladies' Cloakings, Men's Coatings and Cassimeres, and stuffs for Boys' wear, in almost endless variety. We believe those who have patronized this department of our house during the past few months can testify that we have already in our first season carried out the above promise, and we propose to exhibit hereafter each season all that can be desired in this line, being determined to make our house the Cloth House of Philadelphia.

We do not wish to make high-sounding claims of advantages over our competitors that cannot be sustained. The essential advantages we claim are those of place and opportunity—the opportunity to buy goods at less than ordinary market rates, attendant on a large business and a cash system of doing it. While we realize the advantages of extensive advertising, yet we fully realize that no permanent success can be achieved unless the promises held out by advertising are found to be fully sustained on a visit to the house. We hope to sustain every promise we make. Lastly, more than all, we realize that no business can be a large success without scrupulous fair dealing, at all times, and uniform courtesy to every customer. We shall endeavor to make every buyer a constant dealer at the house. We therefore invite all who buy dry goods and cloths in large or small quantities to call on us early in the new year, and give us the opportunity to secure their constant patronage. STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER, Central Dry Goods and Cloth House, Eighth and Market streets.

Our whole stock of MEN'S, YOUTH'S, BOYS' and CHILDREN'S CLOTHING to be sold out at a great REDUCTION OF PRICES, which are in all cases guaranteed lower than the lowest elsewhere, or the sale cancelled and the money refunded. Call and examine our goods after having examined those of the "so-called" houses before purchasing. A fair test is all we ask. Half-way between Fifth and Sixth streets } BRENNETT & CO., No. 514 MARKET ST., PHILADELPHIA. AND NO. 609 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

SEWING MACHINES AS HEALTH PRESERVERS.—It is not the least argument in favor of the universal adoption of the Sewing Machine, that they are among the greatest promoters and savers of health. The needle is carried its hecatombs to the grave, and to that class of victims the advent of the Sewing Machine is like a revelation of mercy. Indeed, there is no subject upon which one's pen is actuated by deeper convictions, or moves with more earnest zeal, than in advocating the widest adoption of these health, life, and labor-saving instruments. Of the various Sewing Machines in use there are many reasons for preferring the "Grover & Baker," sold at No. 727 Chestnut street. They are operated with greater ease and do their work more satisfactorily than others and they also perform a variety of the more ornate and elegant classes of sewing which no other sewing machines attempt. For this, and other reasons, they are the most desirable Sewing Machines for holiday presents. Salesrooms No. 727 Chestnut street.

YE SHIVERING MORTALS who stand in mortal fear of winter's blast and its accompanying ills, why don't you go to Alter's famous Coal Yard at No. 57 N. Ninth street, and get the very best of coal? It is a domestic paradox why men and women will go stamping and fuming about the house because the stove, instead of coal, fire gives forth no heat, when Alter keeps constantly the cheapest and best of fuel in such a pile as to run even more or less, of coal there is a merit which makes it doubly interesting to the recipient. Thousands of dollars are to-day being wasted on trifles, which, if but turned to some good account, by stocking some deserving poor man's cellar with Alter's coal, would greatly ameliorate misery in our midst; and he who is prompted to do such a kind act, not only to the poor, but to Alter's! He should remember that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

TO THE PURCHASING PUBLIC.—A call is extended to visit Woelpler & Brother's Ladies' and Gents' Furnishing Goods establishments—one at No. 27 N. Eighth street, the other at No. 25 N. Ninth street, and acquire satisfaction by inspection that nothing in their line can be found better or cheaper elsewhere. Why a man may go to the store and array himself from top to toe in underwear that fits to a T, and deck himself out with the prettiest of neck-ties, collars, cuffs, what not. A lady can do the same in articles pertaining to feminine use, and render herself sweet and pretty in colors of the rainbow, or others more quiet. The Messrs. Woelpler are just at the present time, a most heavy and handsome stock of goods. Their stores are just the places to purchase holiday presents, and articles can be found in them to suit the length of any purse. Don't fail to visit Nos. 27 N. Eighth street and 25 N. Ninth street.

THE YOUTH'S PAPER.—The "YOUTH'S COMPANION," in its new form of eight pages, is one of the handsomest weeklies published. The first number, just issued, is filled with a great variety of delightful readings, has fine illustrations, and, taken as a whole, is certainly a most attractive sheet for either young or old. Many a year ago, when it was first published by Mr. Willis, many a boy or girl thought there was no reading to be compared with it, but this number shows that while it has grown in years it has also grown in vigor, interest, and brilliancy. It is for sale by all newsdealers.

FINE FRANCE GAIT BOOTS AND GAITERS.—The man who has never experienced the pleasure of wearing a pair of boots made by William H. Helweg, is to some extent an object of commiseration. We speak knowingly, having worn Helweg's boots for years. Their comfort, however, is not their only recommendation, as they are made of the best material and in the very best manner. Helweg will not employ an incompetent workman; therefore his work is always first-class. His store and factory is at No. 35 Arch Street, next to the corner of Sixth. A HAWKING COVER is one of the most distressing as well as dangerous forms of cough one can be afflicted with. Its continuous action fatigues and irritates the lungs, and thus engenders consumption. Upham's Fresh Meat Cure will cure the cough, soothe the irritated bronchiae, and give tone and vigor to the lungs and whole system. A single bottle will convince any one of its purity. Sold one dollar per bottle. JOHNSTON, HOLLOWAY & COWDEN, No. 67 Arch Street. PROOF OF THE FURBERG IS EATING IT, so with Clothing, the proof of its quality is by its durability and the fact of its coming from CHARLES STOKES & CO.'s factory positive that you will be perfectly satisfied with the QUALITY, STYLE, AND PRICE. GROVER & BAKER'S Highest Premium Sewing Machine, No. 72 Chestnut street.

JEWELRY.—Mr. William W. Cassidy, No. 15 South Second street, has the largest and most attractive assortment of fine jewelry and silverware in the city. Purchasers can rely upon obtaining a real, pure article furnished at a price which cannot be equalled. He also has a large stock of American Western watches in all varieties and at all prices. A visit to his store is sure to result in pleasure and profit.

OPEN HOUSE ON NEW YEAR.—Don't fail to call on your friends, and among other good things, partake of Speer's Port Grape Wine. Most all New-Year tables will have it. Johnston, Holloway & Co., No. 67 Arch street; Fred. Brown, corner of Fifth and Chestnut; and all other Druggists; and Thompson Black & Co., corner of Broad and Chestnut, have a lot in from the vineyard, and will supply the demand.

SKIN DISEASES.—What form of disease is more annoying than that of the skin, with its itching, stinging, smarting, its ugly red pimples, blotchy eruptions, and loathsome ichorous discharges? Happily, Hieskel's Teaser Ointment is a sovereign remedy for every form of skin disease, making a radical cure in every case. Sold 50 cents per box sent by mail for 20 cents. Johnston, Holloway & Cowden.

DIED. HALL.—On the morning of the 29th instant, ROBERT S. HALL, in the 63rd year of his age. The relatives and male friends are invited to attend the funeral, on Monday, the 31st instant, at 11 o'clock, from his late residence, No. 1121 Girard street, S. Service at St. Peter's Church, Third and Pine streets. * * * MILLER.—On the 28th instant, CATHERINE MILLER, wife of Daniel Miller, in the 64th year of her age. The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, from the residence of her husband, Wayne street, between Queen and Arch streets, on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

OBITUARY. The gentle spirit of ALLEN J. HUBBS has quietly departed this earth. A kind, indulgent father, faithful to his beloved family—though dead, his virtues will forever live in the hearts of his devoted wife, dear children, and many friends, who all sadly mourn his loss.

His noble traits, his extraordinary abilities, his great success, due to his own exertions, the architect of his own fortune, remain a monument to his good name, which was in life, as in death, "As chaste as snow, as pure as ice." A lame to be envied and an inheritance to be valued more than life—a path which followed will lead to happiness and renown. I can only offer this poor condolence to an afflicted family, this shallow honor to departed worth, "To die in Christ is but to live eternally." To the long suffering, which no more with Christian fortitude, give us an assurance of his blissful eternity. His charitable and merciful deeds were not all forgotten to the world, and his aversion to display and not lety is but an evidence of the truth. "Men die, their deeds do live forever." To the virtuous a virtue or a reward; his worth would be "planting a rose upon the brimning jar." We leave him with his God, in whose image he was created, and whose teachings he followed whilst permitted to live with us. SINCERELY, Philadelphia, January 1, 1889.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE FOR ANY HOUSE TO GET THE PRICES DOWN AS LOW as we are now selling all our CLOTHING, and the REASON for it can be very easily seen. An appraisal of the stock, was made under direction of the EXECUTOR, and then it was determined to sell it at ONCE to make a quick settlement of the accounts of the former Firm. To do this THE PRICES WERE ALL PUT DOWN, are that we GUARANTEE them fully TEN PER CENT. LOWER THAN THE LOWEST ELSEWHERE, OR GOODS TAKEN BACK AND CASH PAID OVER AGAIN WHEN SHOWN TO BE OTHERWISE.
